Important Information about Health Care Reform for Families, Children, and Pregnant Women

- <DSHS> no longer handles health care coverage for most households.
- Starting on <October 1, 2013>, you will apply, complete renewals, and make most changes regarding your health care coverage through the <Washington Healthplanfinder> instead of <DSHS> or <HCA>.
- For other benefits such as cash and food, you will still apply, complete renewals, and make changes through <DSHS>.
- Applications for health care, renewals, and changes will be completed at a new web portal called <Washington Healthplanfinder> at <www.wahealthplanfinder.org>. This website is secure and you will receive a decision right away.
- The way your income affects the type of health care coverage you can receive is changing. More people can receive coverage. If you want more information about new income rules, please contact the <Washington Healthplanfinder> at <www.wahealthplanfinder.org> or call <1-855-923-4633>.

If you have questions or need help with this letter or the renewal, call <1-877-501-2233>.

There is more information about these changes at <www.washingtonlawhelp.org>.

If you disagree with our decision, or if the <Washington Health Benefit Exchange> renews your health care coverage and you disagree with any of the elements such as household composition, income, or citizenship status, you may request a hearing. Your hearing rights are attached.
