

Most DAPA Eligible Parents Live in Southern California

Note: Data for the regions shaded in grey are not available due to small sample size.

Source: Migration Policy Institute (MPI) analysis of U.S. Census Bureau data from the 2013 American Community Survey (ACS), 2009-2013 ACS pooled, and the 2008 Survey of Income and Program Participation (SIPP) by James Bachmeier of Temple University and Jennifer Van Hook of The Pennsylvania State University, Population Research Institute.

To see the complete report on what immigration relief for parents and youth means for health coverage in California, go to <http://ccf.georgetown.edu/all/immigration-relief-parents-youth-whole-family-health-coverage-california/>.

To see materials from California's ALL IN campaign, go to www.allinforhealth.org/undocumented.